SECTION C: READING COMPREHENSION10 MARKS

Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow it. Use your own words as much as possible.

Poverty is the driving force of AIDS pandemic in Africa. In poor communities, men are forced to migrate to other areas in search of work, which means that husbands may be away from their wives for a week or more and may seek extra-marital relations. This is particularly true when they frequent bars, usually the only form of entertainment readily available. At the same time, poor women are being forced into prostitution as the only means of earning an income to feed their children.

As a result, Southern Africa has become the global epicentre of the AIDS pandemic, some of the most high-risk groups are married women and young uneducated girls, who are often powerless in matters of sexual relation.

While African small holder farmers have always been poor, those infected or affected by HIV/AIDS become destitute. This is because of additional expenditures on medical fees, funeral services and the care of orphans. The loss of adult family members means less farm labour is available. As a result, fewer crops are planted. Later, weeding is neglected, and harvests are reduced.

When husbands die, their families lose payments from their employment. When women, who are responsible for securing the family's food supply, caring for the sick and bringing up relatives' orphans, are severely traumatized, they face an uncertain future, either living with relatives or fending for themselves.

Despite decades of development in rural Africa, most people still do not have access to clean water, hygienic sanitation, electricity, affordable health care, education and food security. As a result of the AIDS crisis on African economies, even the most modest development gains are being lost. People living with HIV urgently need all of these things. Yet this situation is likely to worsen. With access to clean water, timely treatment for opportunistic infections and a nutritious diet, people living with HIV can live healthy and productive lives for ten to fifteen years. In Southern Africa, people are dying of AIDS within five years because they are poor and do not have the most basic food security.
